and lowered the 18-month share-price estimate to 2.50 from 3.50, citing a constrained earnings power.

The researchers compared the weight, fat mass, activity levels, and food consumption of genetically engineered and normal mice over time.

Include beef, pork, lamb, poultry, fish, nuts and seeds in your diet as these are all good sources of phenylalanine.

To have mercury fillings banned completely in the U.S., as it has been in some other European countries,